HOUSE OF BRUAR

If you would like more than pictures to mark a momentous deer, perhaps a first for you or a family member, you can now honour your particular stag by commissioning a one-of-a-kind bronze sculpture from House of Bruar. Your stag is individually sculpted by British artist Dean Kendrick from photographs you provide. The artist studies the stag's defining features, from the proportions and character of the head to the distinctive formation of its antlers, before translating them into three dimensions, and casting the stag in burnished bronze.
